ARCHER LX

PIPER EVOLVED

You can draw a direct line from the first Piper Cherokee to the new Piper Archer LX. The breed has thrived over fifty years and through hundreds of thousands of hours in the air, operating in every country. Each generation is more sophisticated, more energetic, and more capable than the last.

The newest evolution in that progression isn't simply the ideal airplane for learning to fly. It's the perfect way to enjoy flying for years to come. The Archer LX has the capability for cross-country travel, with its advanced avionics, the Garmin G500. And, even with its standard PiperAire air conditioning system, the Archer LX still has enough payload capacity for a family of four. Meet the next generation of the Archer.

MAKE IT SIMPLE. MAKE IT FUN.

PIPER UNCOMPLICATED

The new Archer LX, just like every Archer that has come before, is defined by its simplicity, stable yet responsive handling and comfortable interior. A fixed-pitch prop and fixed gear make it easier to fly, less expensive to maintain and keep annual inspection costs low. One of the most reliable and economical engines in modern aviation powers the Archer LX to a cruise speed of 128 knots. Rich leather seats make the trip a pleasure. And the only standard air conditioning in the class keeps everybody happy in the air and on the ground.

MAKE IT COMFORTABLE.

PIPER PREPARED

The Archer LX arrives with everything to make your flight comfortable, safe and enjoyable, all standard. Many features others charge more for are already included at no extra cost: Air conditioning, leather seats, WX500 Stormscope and 2-axis autopilot with altitude pre-select are all standard. And only the Archer LX gives you glass-panel technology with the Garmin G500 available with the L-3 SkyWatch Traffic Advisory System and XM Weather/Radio. Available as an option is a Dual G500 suite – an extra MFD and PFD for the right seat. Any way you look at it, the Archer LX is equipped for the way you fly and the missions you fly most.
